

South Paws and The Perseus Foundation join forces in the battle against cancer! Our heartfelt gratitude to Sarah Sheafor, ACVIM, Medical Director, Chief of Oncology and Internal Medicine and SouthPaws Veterinary Referral Center for their gracious support and friendship. We are delighted to announce that Dr. Sheafor will host a column especially for visitors to our site.

Dr. Sheafor is a founding member of the Animal Cancer Institute/Animal Clinical Investigations performing clinical research in novel therapeutic agents. She has published in many veterinary journals and is called upon frequently to lecture for many local and regional veterinary societies, veterinary technicians, and veterinary students.

Her special interests/expertise include: diagnostic and therapeutic medical oncology, pain management, maximizing quality of life for cancer patients, transfusion medicine, infectious diseases, hematology.

The Perseus Foundation is truly honored to enjoy a close working relationship with Dr. Sarah Sheafor and SouthPaws Veterinary Referral Center.
